Quote of the week from around Olympia: "We (CTE) are on the ingredient list, but we will have to wait and see if we (CTE) end up on the plate." The political process is like cooking or sometimes described as a "sausage making" process – how things look in the beginning don't look the same in the final product.

Career and Technical Education (CTE) Bills this week:

Senate Bill 5183, the CTE funding bill, will be up for executive action in the Early Learning & K-12 Education Committee in the Senate on Tuesday this coming week. This is where any final amendments for the bill will be presented, voted on, and then passed (hopefully) out of committee for the next step in the process, most likely on to Ways & Means. We have offered the following suggestions related to Allowable Expenditures for CTE funding enhancement:

- Materials, equipment and supplies for CTE programs
- CTE staff salaries limited to the state salary allocation and extended learning activities and contracts connected to CTE program delivery. Stay tuned.

House Bill 1756 has many different components relating to CTE policy, ranging from salary placement to aligning CTE course approvals to demand industries going forward. This too is going thru the "improvement" process with the prime sponsor prior to the public hearing on February 14 and an executive session on February 16. Again, stay tuned and share any thoughts you may have with me.

House Bill 1046 is up for a public hearing Wednesday in the Appropriations Committee. The bill discontinues certificates of academic and individual achievement as graduation requirements, relieving the pressure of high stakes testing as a limiting factor to graduate for many students. The result will allow more flexibility for students and expand the variety of classes, which have been narrowed as they focus on test success.

House Bill 1509 will provide an opportunity for students to complete all credits required for high school graduation by reducing the total number of credits required from 24 to 21. This bill has a long bipartisan list of legislators signed on to the bill and in testimony created a great deal of discussion between committee members and those who testified in opposition to the bill. Testimony seen here, at the 1 hour, 17 minute mark (1:17:00) > Feb 6, 2017 House Education at 01:30 PM

Check the CTE Watch List in the following pages for other bills we have identified as either critically important and/or focused on CTE issues.

As always stay informed and engaged: As a WOVE subscriber you are invited to join our weekly Legislative Update GoToMeetings. If you would like to join us please let Tim Knue know directly at tim@wa-acte.org to receive the calendar/email invite information. These meetings are a great way to be aware of what is happening on a weekly basis and to help you work with your local legislative members in achieving our legislative goals. If I can help in any way with this please let me know. I welcome any and all help in our efforts.
